

The 2017 John Philip Sousa National Young Artists Solo Competition

for

High School Wind Band Instrumentalists

Administered by

The John Philip Sousa Foundation

Website: sousafoundation.net

Supported by

Jupiter Band Instruments

Website: jupitermusic.com

The purpose of this competition is to identify, recognize, and honor outstanding high school musicians who demonstrate a significantly high standard of excellence in performance.

The 2017 John Philip Sousa National Young Artists Solo Competition

Criteria:

- ❖ The NYASC is open to high school students who will be seniors in the fall of 2017.
- ❖ The student must be enrolled as a full-time member of their school's band or orchestra program.

Prize:

- ❖ A $1000.00 scholarship, sponsored by Jupiter Band Instruments, will be presented to the winner if entering college as a music major.
- ❖ The winner will have the opportunity to perform a solo work with a major university or military band. Jupiter Band Instruments will support all expenses associated with the winner's solo performance.

Process:

- ❖ Complete an application. The application can be found at www.sousafoundation.net → National Young Artist and on the Jupiter band instrument website at www.jupitermusic.com.
- ❖ Students should perform two contrasting movements of a concerto--or a work of similar difficulty--with an original or transcribed band accompaniment. The performance must be accompanied by piano.
- ❖ Submit a video recording of an un-edited performance via a private YouTube channel.
- ❖ The deadline for application and video submissions is May 19, 2017.
